

My Top 5 Business Tips

1	Fill the Gap Find the gap between where you are and where you want to be. Fill the gap with what the skills, tools or strategies you need to learn. Do you need to learn more about social media, or strategies on systems and how to automate tasks in your business? Find the people and resources that can help fill these gaps to increase your productivity, cash flow and enjoyment within your business.
2	Delegate If you are a solopreneur, where you work solo, you can't do everything. Find people who can help you with jobs that you are not experienced or efficient with and delegate it to them. Taking on tasks that slows you down from building your business and earning your income, is not good business practice.
3	Take Action. Being in business requires you to be flexible, proactive, committed, resilient and many more things. Be prepared to work longer hours and do things that you may not feel like doing or are uncomfortable to do. Even when you don't feel like it or it's out of your comfort zone – take action. This is what propels you to move upwards and forwards faster and achieve greater success.
4	Focus What you focus on is where you will put your energy and activity into. Having laser focus on what you want to achieve, how to earn your income, and following your mission, will bring you success. Don't let distractions, interruptions and fears hold you back from working your business.
5	Celebrate Just as in life, being in business has its ups and downs, challenges and rewards. Keep acknowledging your success and celebrate your wins – your subconscious loves it and will keep bringing you more of what you celebrate.
